COLLEGE GETS GIFT OF $150,000

Dr. Granville Receives Announcement From The General Education Board.

MUST SECURE $300,000

Have Over Half Now. S. F. Snyder Hands in Resignation as Assistant to President.

The General Education Board has decided to give the sum of $150,000 to Gettysburg College.

Dr. William A. Granville, president of the institution, received definite word to that effect late Thursday afternoon.

Before the Gettysburg $1,000,000 endowment and expansion campaign started the General Education Board, or Rockefeller Board as it is also known, was asked by Gettysburg authorities to contribute a handsome sum. No definite promise was given the college authorities at that time and it was not known for certain until Thursday afternoon that the donation would be received.

This gift of the General Education Board which will add great stimulus to the college campaign for funds is given only on condition that the institution raise an additional $300,000.

Owing to the fact that it is not certain how some of the money raised during the drive will be spent there can be no exact estimate made of the portion of the $300,000 already at hand. According to Dr. Granville, however, "far more than half" of the $300,000 is already available for endowment.

The gift of the General Education Board is only for the purpose of endowing the institution while a portion of the funds raised during the campaign will be used, of course, for other causes.

If the alumni of Gettysburg College display as much enthusiasm toward the drive in future months as they did here during commencement week the authorities of the institution believe there will be little difficulty in securing sufficient funds to shove the total above the $500,000 mark.

Snyder Severs Relations

Another announcement made by Dr. Granville was to the effect that S. F. Snyder, assistant to the president, had tendered his resignation taking effect August first in order to devote all his time to the proposed Detachable Heel and Rubber Company of Gettysburg.

Mr. Snyder graduated from Gettysburg in 1909 and from the Theological Seminary in 1912. Without waiting to accept a call to any pulpit Mr. Snyder, who was then a resident of Indiana, Pennsylvania, accepted the position of assistant to the president which he held for eight years.

During his connection with the institution he also served as graduate manager of athletics.

He and Richard M. McKey, formerly of Chicago, are the prime movers in the proposed Detachable Heel and Rubber Company and have been working for its success since announcement of the invention of Mrs. Snyder.

JOSEPH WILLIAMS RAPID RECRUITER

Re-Enlists in Navy And Signs Eight Other Youths.

To have eight recruits signed up for service in the Navy two days after his re-enlisting is the record of Joseph Williams, a Gettysburg boy, now a Signal Quartermaster, second class, United States Navy.

After re-enlisting a few days ago, Williams was sent to Gettysburg for recruiting service. In two days he convinced the following eight young men that the Navy offered them bigger opportunities than civilian life: John Miller, J. Davis, Steven Smith, J. E. Watson, Wilbur Weikert, William Newcomer, Clarence Valentine, and John Noel. They are all of Gettysburg and leave on the early train Saturday morning for Harrisburg where they will be examined. Both Weikert and Miller are High School students.

Joseph Williams, a former student at the local High School, enlisted in the navy near the outbreak of the war with Germany. He was a member of the crew of the "Alabama" and saw much foreign service having made two voyages to Italy, and one to France. Shortly after the signing of the armistice he received his honorable discharge and returned to Gettysburg where he accepted a position in the furniture factory.

A few days ago he went to Philadelphia where he re-enlisted. He was sent back to Gettysburg for a few days recruiting service and leaves on Monday for San Francisco where he will board ship for Asia, where he expects to be assigned to land duty as a signalman.

He is enlisted for four years.

DOG OWNERS HAVE REPLIED QUICKLY

Commissioners Checking Up List Prior to Starting Prosecutions.

STATE HAS APPROVED

Of Efforts to Enforce Law. Times Publicity Has Been Valuable Asset in Movement.

Aroused by articles in THE TIMES and letters from Roy E. Zinn, county treasurer, that neglect to act meant a fine of $100 or three months in jail, hundreds of dog owners in Adams county hastened to procure licenses.

Three weeks ago THE TIMES told of a visit of James M. Fox, state representative, to Gettysburg and the emphasis he laid upon rigid enforcement of the dog laws.

Within the next few days Treasurer Zinn received approximately three hundred applications for licenses.

The next step was the sending out of notices from the office of the county commissioners notifying each dog owner officially that he would have to procure a license or be subject to arrest.

At their office in the court house the commissioners are now checking up on these lists and will send the name of the approximately one hundred delinquents to the state department who will notify the proper authorities to make immediate arrests.

Not only the persons whose names are recorded at the office of the commissioners but also those who were missed during the trips of the assessors will be subjected to fine or arrest as special officers are being sent out to make a complete survey.

That the state department appreciates the work of the county commissioners in enforcing the dog laws in Adams county is shown by the following letter from Fred Rasmussen, secretary of agriculture:

"We wish to commend you for this work, and also tender our co-operation respecting the general enforcement of this act.

"We shall be very glad to assist you in the prosecution of these cases where the letters are ignored."

The letter to Treasurer Zinn said:

"Our records show that you are the owner of a dog and that you have not taken out a 1920 license. Your license should have been taken out before Jan. 15, 1920. Your failure to take out license has made you liable to a fine of one hundred dollars or three months imprisonment.

"The Secretary of Agriculture at Harrisburg insists that the law be enforced, and the County Commissioners have directed me to notify you that the license must be taken out at once to prevent information and arrest being made.

"It is not the purpose of the law to have dogs killed unless they run at large without license tag, but it is the intention of the State Department of Agriculture to see that the persons who have not complied with the law, be punished accordingly."

UNEXPECTED GIFT FOR HOSPITAL

Former Residents Send $25.00 to Miss Margaret McMillan.

The Annie M. Warner Hospital was the beneficiary of an unexpected gift of $25.00 today by the following letter which was received from R. Chase Flaharty and his sister Mrs. Ethelyn Flaharty Heckendorn, of Philadelphia, former residents of Gettysburg, by Miss Margaret McMillan, of the Red Cross.

"Enclosed you will find a money order for the benefit of the Annie M. Warner Hospital, in memory of our mother and father.

"It will certainly be a great blessing to Gettysburg as it has needed such an aid to sick people for many years. So we, as old residents, want to do our mite. Will you kindly see that it gets to the hospital fund."

Miss McMillan has placed the money in the general fund of the hospital, as no request was made by the donators for any special use.

This is the first of such gifts to be made to the hospital by former residents living away from here.

FIRST SAMPLE HEEL HERE

In Hands of General Manager of Gettysburg Company.

The first sample heel of the Detachable Heel and Rubber Company of Gettysburg, has arrived in town and is now in the hands of Richard M. McKey, general manager of the company.

Six other heels will arrive here shortly and will be placed on exhibition in one of the display windows of the P. W. Stallsmith store on Saturday.

The trade mark on the heels is an Indian head with the words "Shoer Foot" beneath it.

Many Gettysburg people who have been shown the sample believe that it surpasses other leading brands on the market. Features of the Gettysburg model includes its detachability and its simplicity in make up.

General Manager Mahan, of the Henderson Rubber Company, who has been chosen as the local factory head, has stated to Mr. McKey and to S. F. Snyder, vice president, that he "can sell the one year capacity of the Gettysburg factory in one week."

Mr. Mahan and his wife will arrive in Gettysburg on Tuesday morning.

CHECKS GIVEN DELEGATES

To Pay Way to Convention Says Missouri Witness.

(By Associated Press)

St. Louis, July 9—Checks signed by Edward S. Goltra, Democratic national committeeman from Missouri, were given to delegates to pay their expenses to the Democratic state convention at Joplin, according to testimoney today by members of the St. Louis Democratic committee before the Senate committee investigating presidential campaign expenditures.

This convention was instrumental in ousting United States Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, Missouri, from his national convention seat. Senator Reed, a member of the Senate committee which resumed hearing today, took no part in the session other than to be present in order to complete a quorum.

Henry S. Struetker, a St. Louis committeeman, testified that his check was given him at committee headquarters. "Goltra was against Reed but most of the delegates who traveled on his money were for Reed," he said.

AUBURN BRICK PLANT CLOSES

High Price of Coal Demands Temporary Shut Down.

BUSINESS WAS AT HEIGHT

Re-Opening Indefinite. American Wholesale Coal Association Official Says There is no Shortage.

Owing to the soaring of the price of coal on the open market the plant of the Auburn Shale and Brick Company located west of Gettysburg along the Western Maryland railroad has been forced to close down for an indefinite period.

E. H. Dougherty, superintendent of the plant, has received word from the head plant at Auburn in Schuylkill county that coal may be obtained in the near future but no more definite announcement than that has been given out.

Since their contract for coal ran out several months ago the Auburn plant has been forced to purchase a special kind of long flame coal on the open market. They managed to do this and get along fairly well until recently when the price for that brand was announced at $15 per ton.

Finding out that this advance in the price of long flame coal would send the purchasing price of their bricks beyond the reach of the consumer the Auburn company was obliged to order a general shut down which will remain in effect until coal drops to some extent.

The shut down comes at a very inopportune moment, Superintendent Dougherty states, as the Gettysburg plant did an excellent business during the past year and was giving every indication of continuing its success.

George H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal Association, speaks in sharp contradiction to the opinion of the general public.

"There is no shortage of coal," Mr. Cushing says. "There is no danger of any such shortage. Therefore there is a reason but no excuse for the current high prices in the open market. The reason is that we have had too much governmental agitation of the danger of a famine."

Mr. Cushing declared that for the past eight months "there has not been a day or even an hour when some governmental agency was not agitating about coal and predicting a coal famine." Prices, he says, have reached the highest peacetime level in history because those who need coal are "frantically bidding against each other in every market."

Declaring that he has investigated nearly every alarmist report, Mr. Cushing asserts that "not one of them will stand scrutiny or analysis." He predicts that the consumption of bituminous coal during the "coal year" beginning last April 1 would not exceed 535,000,000 tons—10,288,000 tons a week.

"The present assumption, is that unless we reach this average weekly consumption in the early weeks of the coal year we are rushing headlong in a shortage of coal. That has not been true in 25 years. It is not true this year. The records of the coal trade are that with the exception of 1917 and 1918—war years—we never reached in production a figure equal to the required weekly average production until the middle of August. This year we reached it in the second week in June. Thus our production is eight weeks ahead of schedule. That doesn't look like an 'impending famine.'"

SAILOR THIEVES ARE DESERTERS

Constable Cromleigh Receives Word From Commandant at Newport.

A new development has been learned in the cases of Lucian Hall and Walter Freeman, the two sailors arrested by Privates C. A. Cromleigh and M. J. Erford, local state policemen, on Sunday evening, for robbery. They are both deserters from the Navy.

On Sunday evening the sailors entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hoke, a short distance from the Harrisburg road, during their absence and stole a number of articles. Mr. Hoke immediately telephoned for the State Police, who had the offenders in jail within twenty five minutes after being summoned.

After Troopers Erford and Cromleigh found a pair of auto pliers, two revolvers, old coins, a pocketbook containing between $3.00 and $4.00, gloves and a knife in the possession of the two sailors, they confessed to the robbery.

At a hearing later before Squire Hill they were held for the August session of criminal court.

Constable Cromleigh, who was in the Navy himself during the World War, doubted the story of the two men that they were on leave from the U. S. S. "Ellis", a destroyer, and sent word of the arrest to the commandant of the Navy yard at Newport for information.

"The men are deserters" was the reply he received late Thursday afternoon.

It will not be possible for the two seamen to return to Newport until they face the Adams county court in August.

TRIED TO PUT OUT SHERIFF

George Karmany, Gettysburg Graduate, Has Trouble With Fanatic.

Louis Restak, self-proclaimed "high sheriff" of Dauphin county, is peacefully reposing in the Dauphin county jail, following his second attempt, to "unseat" Sheriff Karmany and Deputy Sheriff Hoffman.

Sheriff George Karmany, of Dauphin county, graduated from Gettysburg College in 1907.

Relatives are making efforts to have the authorities release him. He will be thoroughly examined by physicians, and, in case it is thought he will not prove a menace to the community, will be released.

Restak first went to the sheriff's office, Thursday morning, said that the government had named him sheriff of Dauphin county at a salary of $10,000 per year, and that the services of Sheriff Karmany and Deputy Sheriff Hoffman would be required no longer. He was persuaded to go home, but returned later.

GERMANS SIGN UNDER PROTEST

Accepted Terms of Allied Government at 11:45 O'clock in Morning.

WILL HAVE TO DISARM

Stated That Treaty of Versailles Did Not Oblige Them to Acquiesce in Further Territory.

(By Associated Press)

Spa, Belgium, July 9—Germany delegates signed at 11:45 o'clock this morning an engagement accepting the terms of the Allied note relative to disarmament presented yesterday. This action was taken under protest by the German representatives.

The Allied note which amounts virtually to an ultimatum demanded that the Germans accept the terms presented by noon today and stipulated that in the event of the Germans failing to carry out the provisions of the demand, Allied forces would occupy part of the German empire.

The Germans protested stating that the treaty of Versailles did not oblige them to acquiesce in further territory occupation except for failure to fulfill the treaty terms regarding reparation.

Mr. Cumming's telegram stated that he has called a meeting of the entire national committee for the 20th to confer with the governor.

Mr. Cox stated, however, that he was not definitely certain whether the conference will be held here or in Columbus. He said today that his personal campaign headquarters will be in Columbus.

The presidential candidate arrived at his newspaper office at 10:00 o'clock and immediately saw newspaper representatives. A large stack of telegrams was awaiting him.

CANDIDATE COX DOWN ON FARM

Roasts Potatoes And Broils Chops For His Visitors.

MAY GO TO SEE WILSON

Ohio Governor Tells Newspaper Men About Thoroughbred Cow. Form "Pasture Club" At Gathering.

Dayton, O., July 9—Putting aside cares of being a presidential candidate, Governor James M. Cox, the Democratic nominee for president, spent Thursday afternoon on a farm, his boyhood home, 36 miles from Dayton.

Newspaper men, who trailed the Governor, found him with his coat off, roasting potatoes and broiling lamb chops over a campfire in a small ravine some distance from the old homestead. His farm manager was with him.

Taking the intrusion of the newswriters good naturedly, he invited them to share the luncheon he was preparing, but finding it would take more potatoes, chops and sandwiches than he had, he dispatched one of his men to Middletown for more. Luncheon finally was served late in the afternoon.

While the potatoes were roasting and the chops burning the Governor answered many questions of the curious news gatherers concerning his early boyhood, which he had spent on the farm. He also discussed many phases of farming.

While sitting in the shade of a large willow tree one of his thoroughbred cows came wandering up to have a look at the Democratic candidate.

The Governor said she is milked three times a day and gives two gallons at each milking.

At the Governor's suggestion, the "Pasture Club" was formed, having for its members the Democratic candidate and the score of newswriters and camera men. Miss Marjorie Wilson, of Cleveland, the only woman reporter in the company, was unanimously elected president after being placed in nomination by the Governor.

Mrs. Cox did not accompany the Governor on the trip, which was made by automobile.

Since he acquired the old Cox homestead two years ago, Governor Cox is fast transforming it into a model farm.

May Visit Wilson

Governor Cox intimated that he may make an early reply to the telegram of Richmond P. Hobson, Antisaloon League leader of Alabama, requesting that he make a definite statement soon of his position on enforcement of the federal dry amendment and congressional action to modify the Volstead Act as to alcoholic contents of liquors.

It was also intimated by the Governor that he may go to Washington soon for a conference with President Wilson. Telephone conversations between Secretary Tumulty and the Governor have been held during the past few days, it was said.

The civic demonstration in honor of the Democratic nominee will be held July 16. Interest now is turning to the approaching conference of the Democratic candidate with the subcommittee of the National Committee and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential candidate, which probably will be held Saturday, or as soon thereafter as the party can arrive from San Francisco. The Governor will make no speaking engagements until he has conferred with the committee. Hunderds of invitations to make addresses have been received.

Cordial messages of congratulations and felicitations continue to arrive by the hundreds.

ROCKEFELLER WINS ON BIRTHDAY

Plays Good Game of Golf at The Age of Eighty One.

Lakewood, N. J., July 9—John D. Rockefeller celebrated his eighty-first birthday here yesterday. It was the first time he had been at his Lakewood estate on his natal day, and the occasion was marked by a celebration given for a few old friends and relatives. None of his children was present, but they offered their congratulations by telegrams and large floral remembrances. Mr. Rockefeller's sister, Mrs. Davis, was here to felicitate her brother on his excellent health and vigor. To those who know Mr. Rockefeller intimately, the last few years have had but little effect on his appearance.

Mr. Rockefeller celebrated the early part of the day with his usual round of golf. It is two and a half miles around the nine-hole course, and at the finish Mr. Rockefeller's step was as spry as when he left the first tee. Not only did he show abundant vitality in his game, particularly his driving, but he proved that 81 years does not always prove a deterrent to one's skill, as he returned a winner in the contest.

Mr. Rockefeller very gallantly attributed his victory to his partner, Miss Martha Jamison, who motored over from Spring Lake for the game. Miss Jamison, however, disclaimed credit, as, she said, it was Mr. Rockefeller's excellent showing at the extra hole which decided the game in favor of Miss Jamison and himself over Rev. William Wedemeyer, pastor of the Baptist Church here, and Edwin Nelson, superintendent of the Lakewood school system. For nine holes the pair played nip and tuck, and it was at the extra hole that Mr. Rockefeller bested his opponents by one hole.

The day proved a delightful one for employes on the Rockefeller estate. Mr. Rockefeller shook hands with every one of his employes and gave them a gift of money in memory of the occasion.

GIVE ULTIMATUM TO THE GERMANS

Allies Demand Prompt Compliance With Their Treaty Terms.

THREAT OF INVASION

Acute Crisis is Reached at Spa Conference. German Delegates Considerably Agitated. Must Disarm.

Spa, Belgium, July 9—The joint Allied-German conference on the terms of the peace treaty reached another critical point yesterday. The Germans have until noon today to say whether they will accept the Foch-Wilson plan of disarmament. The alternative is contained in the specific threat that the Allies will occupy the Ruhr or other territory if Germany cannot or does not accept.

The German cabinet, of which seven of the nine members are here, held a meeting, which continued from 5:15 o'clock until 8. No decision was reached and the council adjourned. The prevailing view among the Germans was that the Allies had carried their demands, particularly the menace of occupying further German territory, much beyond any provision of the Versailles treaty, and also that the Allies are taking up an aggressive position not contemplated by any clause of the treaty.

The Allied disarmament note was communicated to Berlin early in the day at Chancellor Fehrenbach's request with the direction that it be submitted to the Reichstag and to the leaders of all the parties, whether supporters of the government or the opposition.

Allies' Final Decisions

Herr Fehrenbach asked for the view of the Reichstag and the party leaders, but said that the decision would rest with the cabinet now at Spa.

The final decision of the Allies sets forth that Germany must:

First: Immediately disarm certain of its forces, including the security police.

Second: Publish a proclamation asking for the immediate surrender of all weapons and firearms in the hands of the civilian population.

Third: Abolish immediately compulsory service.

Fourth: Surrender to the Allies all arms, guns and cannon which it possesses above the limit fixed by the treaty of Versailles.

The Allied decision concerning disarmament reads:

"If, on October 1, the German army is not reduced to 150,000 men, the Allies will proceed to occupy German territory in the Ruhr or any other part of German territory and will not evacuate it until all the conditions of the present agreement have been fulfilled."

Must Say Yes Or No

Dr. Walter Simons, German minister of foreign affairs, replied that the proposal was really a modification of the one-sided treaty. It did not represent an agreement arrived at as a result of a "round-the-table" discussion, he said.

Mr. Simons declared the Germans would make every effort to carry out the conditions, recognizing that if they did not succeed Germany would have to bear the consequences, which would be serious not only for Germany, but for the Allies also.

Mr. Lloyd George asked to have noted in the minutes formal acceptance by Germany of the conditions given by the Allies. Dr. Simons asked for a postponement until noon today, which was granted. The Germans must then reply "yes" or "no."

Chancellor Fehrenbach, Dr. Simons, the foreign minister, and Herr Gessler, minister of defense, left the conference in an agitated state. They looked grim when they arrived at German headquarters in a little hotel in the pine woods. The Chancellor immediately called a meeting of the German cabinet, the members of which have been arriving at Spa one by one until only two now remain in Berlin—Herr Koch, interior, and Herr Raumer, treasury.

McFarron Rather Disappointed With Democratic Farming Declaration.

(By Associated Press)

Dayton, Ohio, July 9—John A. McFarron, Furnace, Pennsylvania, master of the Pennsylvania state grange, on his way back from the San Francisco convention called on Governor Cox today and discussed with him farm matters which he desires the governor to discuss in his speech of acceptance.

Mr. McFarron presented the grangers farm plank to both Democratic and Republican platform committees.

He told representatives of the press that he was "rather disappointed" with the Democratic platform declaration on farming.

LOVE PAYROLL IN THE ELWELL CASE

District Attorney Swann Sees Transcripts of Several Checks.

New York, July 9—District Attorney Swann delved yesterday into the so-called love payroll of the murdered Joseph B. Elwell. Representatives of several banks, appeared at the District Attorney's office with transcripts of checks drawn by Elwell for several months prior to his murder.

It has been reported that the slain turfman, whist expert and pursuer of beauty, had a pension list, presumably made up of women to whom, for reasons known to himself, he felt obliged to make regular financial payments. The investigators of the Elwell mystery believed that a review of his checks might shed some additional light on his intimate associations.

When Mr. Swann announced Wednesday that the statement of William H. Pendleton, of Cedarhurst, L. I., regarding his movements on the morning of Elwell's murder had been contradicted, there were several important witnesses who had not been questioned.

His Story Sustained.

These witnesses told their stories yesterday, and, instead of contradicting Pendleton's account, they corroborated it in virtually every detail, and when they had finished, Mr. Swann made public the substance of their testimony, together with a statement that might be construed as a clean bill of health for Pendleton.

The Assistant District Attorney told of an interview with Joseph B. Elwell's horse trainer, who said Elwell had given him tips on "how to handle women."

Elwell's system, the trainer said, was to hold aloof from the woman he wanted, at the same time telling other women how much he liked her. The statement would find its way to the woman, and Elwell is quoted as saying it invariably brought her to the point of seeking him.

FARM FACTS

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College.

Spray—potato spraying can be continued on regular weekly schedule, using Bordeaux 4-4-50.

For side stings of apples, and late attack of fungous diseases, spray now with lime sulphur (two and one-half gallons) and arsenate of lead (three pounds of powder, or six pounds of paste) to 100 gallons of spray.

Garden—Don't eat or sell all the early tomatoes, but save seed from some of the earliest and most productive plants. A valuable new strain may result, and bring in generous returns in later years.

Poultry—Help to reduce the immense loss in bad eggs. Pen up the rooster and produce infertile eggs.

Lambs should be fed a little grain on summer pasture to make a good growth and have a satisfactory finish at marketing time. A mixture of three parts cracked corn, two parts crushed oats and one part pea cake makes an excellent grain mixture for young lambs. Feed a little grain to young lambs while on summer forage.

Farm Crops—The main object of cultivation is to kill weeds; some moisture may be conserved, but is secondary. Corn roots are still spread out and cultivation should not be too deep or too close to the row, and only frequent enough to keep down weeds. Cultivate potatoes lightly to give a fine, even surface between rows. Ridge up the earth to cover weeds, or go through with hoes once during the season. Continue cultivation until vines nearly cover the ground.

"STOCKING BANK" INJURIOUS

Original "National Bank" Habit May Cost Woman Her Leg.

East Plymouth, Conn., July 9—Mrs. Ella McWoodson, of this town, may have to submit to amputation of a leg, which is affected with blood poisoning, because she had the "first national bank" habit of so many women, keeping a big roll of money in her stocking.

Physicians say her ailment is due to germs from frequently handled bank bills.

VILLA MAKES PROMISES

Says He Will Help Crush Other Uprisings.

(By Associated Press)

Mexico City, July 9—Francisco Villa in his peace proposal to the government guarantees that if his conditions are accepted he will make Chihuahua the safest state in the Republic and promises to help crush uprisings in other states according to El Universal today.

Villa's terms include retention by him of the rank of divisional general which he would use in policing Chihuahua, the allotment of a tract in Chihuahua for the use of his soldiers, and the retention of 500 men under his command.

HARDING LOVES NEWS GAME

Boone, Ia., July 9—The nomination of Warren G. Harding for President has recalled that he one time helped to publish one issue of the Boone News-Republican when he was lieutenant governor of Ohio.

Senator Harding was scheduled to make a speech in Boone. While waiting for the hour he went to the newspaper office and said to the city editor, "My name's Harding." He explained he owned a newspaper and enjoyed being around the office. He was asked if he had a copy of his speech and when he said he did not have it was suggested he could use a typewriter and make an abstract. Senator Harding did. He then asked "Is there anything else I can do?"

A handful of proofs was shoved to him and the presidential nominee read and corrected them. He remained in the office the greater part of his stay in Boone, and when he left with a copy of the paper he helped publish, remarked, "See you again, maybe."

JOSH WISE AT THE

DONKEY CIRCUS!

BY J. W. RAPER,
Creator of "Josh Wise."

San Francisco, July 8—Some of the delegates are wet. Some are dry. But nearly all of them are thirsty.

* * *

A man with a can of Pilsener and a loaf of rye bread could have broken up the convention at any stage of the proceedings.

* * *

In the years to come the political histories will speak of it as the irresolutions committee.

* * *

This is the first national convention that ever showed a sense of humor. It adopted a resolution thanking the telephone company.

* * *

All the friends of Tom Marshall will be delighted to know that he has gone through the convention without having blown out the gas.

* * *

Attend a national convention and you'll learn the good old Ship of State is a sailing vessel, moved by wind and not steam.

* * *

It must be admitted that all of the belles who have talked have made ringing speeches.

* * *

At every national convention since 1806 the newspaper correspondents have been writing stories that began with, "William J. Bryan's political future depends upon—" Evidently W. J. B.'s political future depends upon his longevity.

* * *

The news is leaking out that James W. Gerard's name was placed in nomination. Mr. Gerard is the author of "My Four Years in Germany." There need be no fear that he will write "My Four Years in the White House."

* * *

Some of the southern boys who sat up in the sleepers every night on their way out here will have an easier time going home. The bright boys from the Far East have explained to them that they may go to bed.

* * *

President Wilson ran about everything in the convention except the organ.

* * *

With a convention opened with prayer and music from an organ, many of the boys have picked up a whole lot about church services.

* * *

Four years more until most of the fellows hear any more prayers.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BY WILL ROGERS
(Famous Oklahoma Cowboy Wit and Goldwyn Motion Picture Star).

Somewhere in the White House, July 8—Yesterday I asked President Wilson if he was going to listen to the rest of the nominating speeches over the phone.

He said: "Well, do you want me to be sick again?"

* * *

"How is the weegee seance out in Frisco going, anyway, Mr. Wilson?"

He said: "It was going all right and was knocking and getting the answers from me here until they found Bryan moving his hands around in the dark, trying to find where the wires were located?"

* * *

I said: "Mr. President, in all these years of worry about what to do to get rid of Bryan, how is it that none of you thought of making him vice president?"

* * *

I said: "Why don't you-all declare yourself one way or the other on the liquor question?"

He said: "Well, we can't. If we declare wet we lose the bootlegger vote which is a dominating factor this year and they are also our largest contributors to our campaign fund."

* * *

I said: "Yes, prohibition certainly drove the price of votes up. Votes that used to be bought for half a dozen five-cent beers now cost a four-dollar bottle of hair tonic."

* * *

"Mr. President, I see the platform says you advocate free speech. I don't see what good that would do. You parties have called each other everything I ever heard."

* * *

I said: "What about Ireland?"

He said: "Well, the trouble with Ireland is that the English landlords own all the land."

"Well," I said, "the best way to settle that is to make every English landlord go to Ireland and collect the rent personally. That would not only solve the problem but eliminate the landlords."

* * *

I said: "How about Mexico?"

He said: "Well, we could intervene but if the U. S. took it over, most of the Americans down there would have to hunt another country."

* * *

I said: "President, some of the candidates are running out of money out in Frisco and are paying their delegates off with I. O. U's."

* * *

I said: "Why do the Democrats nominate so long before they ballot?"

He said: "I don't know, Will, unless it is so the delegates can get a chance to look around a bit before they sell."

* * *

I said: "I see the boy says he don't want it. You say you don't want it. Now the Republicans, this year, considered it an honor to be nominated but the Democrats seem to consider it a duty."

THE SLOW BUT SURE NURSE.

STOP POOR FERTILIZERS

That the farmers of Pennsylvania are losing thousands of dollars each month through purchase of low-grade fertilizers, is the warning sent out by the Bureau of Chemistry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. The usually accepted line of demarkation between high and low-grade fertilizers is 12 per cent of total plant food, including either nitrogen, or phosphoric acid or potash, separately or in combination. The spring inspection of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Chemistry indicates that the proportion of highgrade fertilizers on sale in the State has greatly increased over the low-grade brands.

The unsuccessful farmer is the one who purchases the low-grade fertilizers, because the product is cheaper and then applies from 100 to 200 pounds to the acre. Plants do not have the power to walk around the farm seeking food and on such an insufficient diet they do not thrive. In some of the successful potato, onion and tobacco districts of the State as high as 1,500 pounds of high-grade fertilizer are used to the acre and the results obtained fully justify the expenditure.

VETERANS GOOD FARMERS

Wounded Soldiers Successful as Food Producers.

New York, July 9—A number of modest little farms operated by veterans of the world war who have recovered from shell shock, gas or wounds, now dot the states of New Jersey, Connecticut and New York. The owners of these farms, most of them graduates of the New York State School of Agriculture at Farmingdale, L. I., have been "rehabilitated" and are now making good as food producers with the same enthusiasm that took them "over the top" in France.

The transformation of most of these former soldiers who selected farming from among the subjects offered by the Federal Board for Vocational Training in many cases has been a complete metamorphosis of railroad brakemen, plumbers, policemen, mechanics and laborers. One recent graduate of the school was a bartender before the war and today he owns a thoroughly up-to-date place near Toms River, N. J.

GETS DEAD SON'S LETTER

American Legion Officers' Efforts Gain Treasure For Mother.

Mrs. L. E. Brittian, of Dorchester, Massachusetts, has received a letter written to her by her only son, Sergeant Major William Sidney Brittian, of the 101st ammunition train, just before he was killed in battle near Plesnoy, France. It was full of good cheer and of hope for quick victory and a return home.

The letter, which had been mailed, was obtained for the mother, with all his other effects, through a relentless fourteen months search by the Massachusetts department American Legion officers.

A silver ring, marked "Mother," which the boy had worn almost from childhood, was among the most highly prized of the articles which came recently. In addition to receiving her dead son's effects, the Legion has obtained for her all his back pay and insurance and compensation for death in the line of duty, and at present the organization is working to see if she has back allotments.

ZINCAND CLEANS BASES WITH HIT

Pulls a "Hank Gowdy" And Third Wins, 3-1.

Back in 1914 "Hank" Gowdy, a .240 hitter during the regular National League season surprised the baseball realm in the World Series by banging out several home runs which brought victory to his team, the Boston Braves.

Just to show the fans of the Ward League that "Hank" Gowdy is far from being in a class by himself, "Jack" Zincand, who pounded out the pill for an average .067 during the initial half of the season, came to the bat against First Ward Thursday night with three men on base and soaked one to right field for three bases.

Score 3-1 in favor of Third Ward.

Zincand's hit was scored as a two bagger and Tawney given an error for the extra base.

Now the joy of the Third Warders has increased perceptibly because their favorites are reposing in the lead with the unbeatable percentage of 1.000.

It has been a long time since Third Ward had a percentage of 1.000. Eh, what?

Three hits was the total of the efforts of First Ward against the offerings of Sanders, who was relieved in the last session, however, when he passed the first two men to face him.

HARD TO COME BACK

It takes a long time and some rough going to prove to some of the pugs that it is next to impossible to stage a come-back after one has retired from squared circle activities. Joe Mandot, of New Orleans, at one time one of the best lightweights in the land, recently tried a come-back in the four round affairs on the Pacific Coast. Mandot had several scraps with the so-called seventh raters, and in none of them did he show anything near like the form he displayed when he was a regular scrapper.

Mandot is now convinced that it is impossible for a boxer to retire and then come back. He was out of the game only about a year and a half when he essayed his return, and during his absence from the ring he took excellent care of himself.

The New Orleans lad declares he would never have believed the difficulty of returning to the ring, had he not experienced it himself. In his first bout he made an excellent showing in the first round, but in the second he began to tire, while in the third and fourth he was forced on the defensive when his legs became weary and his arms so tired he could no longer put pep into his punches.

SCHEFFER LEADS LEAGUE

"Louie" Scheffer, former Gettysburg College athlete, is leading the West End League at Harrisburg in hitting with an average of .375.

"Shorty" Miller, erstwhile star quarterback of the Penn State eleven, is second on the list with a percentage of .370.

TENDLER WANTS CROWN

Unable to get Benny Leonard into a match with the lightweight title at stake, and the weight at 138 pounds ringside, Lew Tendler, Philadelphia battler, says he will launch a program of activity next fall that will set a record for men in his division. Tendler plans to meet every contender for the crown, and always at 133 pounds. He believes such a program will give the fans an opportunity to see who is the legitimate lightweight ruler.

CARPENTIER SIDESTEPS

Chances for a Dempsey-Carpentier fight is regarded as unlikely until next year "if ever" according to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager.

It is claimed that Carpentier is trying to sidestep the bout using his contract with Charles Cochran, the English promoter, as a shield. This contract forbids that Carpentier even discuss a Dempsey fight with any promoter other than Cochran.

The only chance for the fight is that Dempsey and Kearns accept Carpentier's challenge issued in Paris last year, in which it is specified that the bout must be in England or France and under Cochran's management.

Kearns refuses to allow Dempsey to go to Europe to defend his title and he will not bind himself with Cochran alone as he believes that would preclude all chances of obtaining a higher bid from some other promoters.

BLUE RIDGE RESULTS

Hagerstown, Chambersburg and Frederick Victorious in Games.

Hagerstown took Martinsburg into camp by an 8-4 score in Thursday's game in Hagerstown. The league leaders knocked Roberts from the mound in the third. They collected 17 hits during the afternoon.

Chambersburg trimmed Hanover when they came from behind in the sixth inning and scored five runs on an avalanche of hits. Yarrigen playing leftfield for Hanover made a double in three times up.

Frederick defeated Martinsburg in a game replete with many disputes. It was a pitchers battle between Clark and Buckland, the latter having the best of the argument.

TO PHOTOGRAPH ELWELL'S EYES

NEW YORK—Assistant District Attorney John T. Dooling, conducting an investigation of the slaying of Joseph Elwell, New York "card king," intends to photograph the retina of the dead man's eye in an effort to reproduce the last image thrown upon it—the face of the murderer. The suggestion was made by the French police. This is an heretofore unpublished photograph of Elwell, made a short time before his death at Palm Beach.

TEST NEARLY COSTS LIFE

Doctor Tastes Drug in Case. Affected for Six Hours.

Harrisburg, July 9—Heroin tasted by Dr. Thomas S. Blair, head of the State Bureau of Drug Control, to test it, almost proved fatal. The muscles of his face and parts of his body became drawn, and it took six hours for the effects of the drug to pass off.

Dr. Blair referred to his narrow escape Thursday in testifying at the hearing of Elsie Whittaker before Mayor Hoverter. The woman was arrested while trying to smuggle heroin, concealed in a cake of soap, to her husband, who is serving six months in jail for illegal possession of drugs. Contents of the soap were sent to Dr. Blair to analyze.

The physician thought it a harmless white powder, and to hurry along the investigation, put some of it on the end of his tongue and tasted it. He said there was enough heroin in the soap to kill a dozen persons. The woman was held in $1500 bail for Court.

REAL LAGER ON ITS WAY

Wait a Minute: It's to Be For Medicine Only.

Word comes from Washington, where all sorts of regulations are made nowadays, that real lager beer is soon to be made once more, to be used not as a beverage, but as a medicine. It is to have the old-time kick and conversation. It seems that under the Volstead Act the Federal Prohibition Commissioner of Internal Revenue, can make regulations for the sale of beer just as regulations have been made for the sale of whisky. It is stated that the regulation of whisky sales has reached such a degree that the regulation of the sale of beer, ale, stout and other brewed beverages can be undertaken.

So report has it that the Prohibition Commissioner is soon to promulgate the new rules and say how much beer, ale, stout or porter of the old-time pre-war and pre-prohibition power a physician may be permitted to prescribe at one time for a patient who needs a mild stimulant. It is supposed that the quantity of brewed beverage permitted will be fixed on the basis of the permissible alcoholic content, and that in prescribing beer the physician will be permitted to prescribe the same amount of alcohol in a given time as he would in the case of whisky.

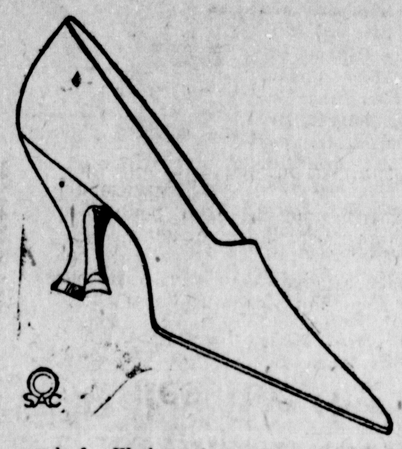
The Season's Final Clearance



We have called this a final clearance. "FINAL" is the right word.

This is the last call—the last full-fledged opportunity to buy summer goods at such wonderful savings.

We are getting ready for FALL business.

Our present stock must be quickly disposed of. We have determined to do it in one comprehensive drive. The prices we have named on goods are "LOW", that is we have made them as low as we possibly can; so low that the goods are sure to be sold within a very short time.

"HUCKLEBERRY FINN"

Through all the years—They Live!

As real, as fresh, as appealing human today as when MARK TWAIN—his eyes a twinkle—called them from his heart and wrote them down forever in the world's greatest romance of youth. Freckle-faced Huck Finn; Tom Sawyer, with his marvelous plans; "PAP" Finn and his jug of rum; Those seedy old rapscallions, the "KING" and the "DUKE"; Black Jim and sweet-faced Mary Jane. Now, in this irresistible photoplay, they live before your very eyes with all their charm, their escapades, their lovable, laughable ways.

A tale of other days on the Mississippi Plushing with a hundred immortal adventures followed with much laughter. Softened by a few tears.
